

The FCC Chairman is proposing to repeal Title Two rules.
This

would remove bans on blocking and throttling web traffic and allow internet service providers to charge for internet
"fast lanes" to consumers.

Most citizens are internet users, including me, and I oppose the proposed repeal.

Tom Scovill
scovill@gotsky.com
Mount Shasta, CA